Wasteland

Foxyroks

Recycled Skateboards

The actual physical place Wasteland is an unofficial self made skate park in inner city Leicester. The park was built on rough derelict land by a community of young skateboarders who have worked to create a safe haven where young people can go to skate and mix.

The piece “wasteland” is made from 384 pieces of broken skateboards that were donated from the young people at the park.

£384 proceeds to go to wasteland

Artist Bio

I use waste streams that are generated by extreme sports anything from surfing to to BMX to skateboarding, most of my recent work is based around using reclaimed skateboards that have been donated to me by skaters across the uk. I live and work in the city of Leicester
