Notes from a walk on the 9th of October

Ameerah Dawood

Acrylic, Oil and Oil Pastel on Canvas. 120 x 100cm

Inspired by her mindfulness walks, to harbour a strong connection with nature, this painting depicts a personal narrative of subtle moments noticed and then documented in a journal. These moments help Ameerah continually strive to romanticise life as a mechanism to ease stress and reconnect with natural energies.

Ameerah is an abstract expressionist artist who aims to visually convey her personal writings through her emotive use of colour and fast energetic brush strokes, as well as writing directly and illegibly from her journal onto canvas. Her paintings display a linear narrative whether it be a moment or a day of personal significance. They are often quick and intuitive based on feeling. Her most recent paintings are inspired by a journal kept whilst documenting her recent travels through South East Asia.
