Whispers in the Red Glow

Niko

"Whispers in the Red Glow". Referring to the longing for something, whether that be physical or mental. She yearns for it, and it calls to her in whispers. Red seeps within familiar objects, infecting their meaning and connection. A disease. She holds to the uninfected letter green with nature, it will grow fruitful. The memories tied to this letter bear a warm reminder within the haze of the whisper's cold trance. A longing for this fruit. But the branches are high, it will take time to pick them. Despite this, the smell of such ripeness permeates the air. It's calling clashes with the whispers. A lengthy war waged upon this whisper.

Artist Bio

My personal practice is focused on creating a narrative world, rooted in past experiences and memories. It serves to process hardships turning turmoil into something fruitful. My process is intuitive, grounded in conversation, reflection, and attention to atmosphere. Past exhibitions where a personal work was included are the “Open: The People’s Exhibition” and “Restore the Soar”. My pieces when working with others intertwine my visions with their ideas. I’ve involved myself with documenting artists' work within “Art Wxmen Leicester” and Attenborough Arts Lates.
